Update on COVID-19 screening at South Deep

Colleagues

As we continue to manage the challenges presented by the COVID-19 pandemic and its impact on our lives, we will be providing a weekly update on our COVID-19 self-declaration, screening and testing outcomes.

Since we started our limited return-to-work, we have been focussing on screening all employees before they come onto site every day. Increasing numbers of our colleagues are using the self-declaration tool on WhatsApp to do this before they arrive at the mine – last week, 474 of you did so, and since we returned that number is 919. Many of us are still using the manual process to screen on arrival – last week 9,234 declarations were made, with a total of 34,312 since we restarted.

We have identified 360 employees whose health status means they may be more vulnerable to COVID-19. Of those who have been recalled to work, some have been placed on precautionary sick leave, while the others have undergone medical review, or will do so as they come onto their cycle.

So far, 100 COVID-19 tests have been conducted, with all results coming back negative. We will continue to refer for testing or test ourselves in cases where screenings indicate a cause for concern, or where the employees duties mean they may be exposed.

We have done well so far. As a team, if we continue to comply with all the necessary hygiene, PPE and social distancing requirements, and we become COVID-19 ambassadors in our homes, communities and when making use of public amenities, we can protect ourselves, our loved ones and our communities.

To access the WhatsApp self-screening tool and activate the electronic permit, save 087 250 2482 on your device and send a “Hi” message every time you wish to receive a permit.
